Bank of America Open Tees Off Tournament Week with Red, White and Blue Memorial Day Golf Clinic

CHICAGO, IL – The Bank of America Open will officially tee off tournament week on Memorial Day, Monday, May 26 with an adaptive golf clinic for disabled veterans of the U.S. Armed Forces. Beginning at 10 a.m. attending veterans will receive tailored instruction from adaptive golf specialists at the Red, White and Blue Golf Clinic on the practice range of The Glen Club, host course of the Nationwide Tour's Bank of America Open. The clinic will be followed by lunch and a round of golf at the Glenview National 9 across the street from The Glen Club beginning at 2:30 p.m.

Hosted in conjunction with the tournament's official charity, Great Lakes Adaptive Sports Association, Hines VA Hospital and Wounded Warriors Disabled Sports Project, the clinic will also welcome distinguished army veteran and PGA TOUR Community Outreach Coordinator Dan Nevins. Nevins will be on hand to meet and practice with the veterans and will also attend the Wednesday Bank of America Pro Am.

The Red, White and Blue Golf Clinic will tee off tournament week activities for the Bank of America Open which also includes the Bank of America Pro-Am on Tuesday and four rounds of Nationwide Tour golf competition Thursday through Sunday.
